very cute. my babies love the flaps!

Very pleased with the purchase

Very sweet, easy to read! My daughter loves playing peekaboo with the characters as we're reading

What is it about flaps that fascinate? My almost 3-year-old grandson adores this book and is reading it on his own. The colorful pictures are engaging and create practical context clues to help an early reader decode. The vocabulary is fun to say: "swishy goldfish," "furry squirrel." My 6-month old grandson squeals at the colorful images. Most of the sturdy flaps are about the size of a third of the page (or more), making them easy to grab. I have several Karen Katz flap books and none of the flaps has torn, something I assumed would happen when I purchased the first one several years ago. Put this on your book shelf and expect it to become a family favorite.

These books are my daughter's favorite!! We have quite a few but this one in particular is read often. My daughter is obsessed with dogs so I knew it would be a hit! I love the simple vocabulary used and the bright photos. The flaps also have held up well to frequent abuse by my over excited toddler!

We really enjoy these books, however this particular version uses "no" multiple times throughout which I didn't care for.

We love Karen Katz' lift a flap book. This is a fun story with a few different easily recognizable animals in it and my 18 month old daughter loves reading these stories. She is just about out growing this style of book now, so I would say perfect for infant to 18 months/2 years.

My three-year-old niece loved opening the flaps and was able to respond after looking under the flaps eg "no, that's a kitty cat", I just wish the book were a little longer as it's only 6 pages it's probably meant for younger than A 3 year old but she loves it anyway
