My son loves the pages of the book, he loves walking around the house to find words to spell. This book has changed the way I think about homeschooling, it has given me a little more freedom and creative ideas. One of the best parts of this book is in the back there is a create your own comics, my son is a super big fan of comics so he is looking forward to working on these pages. Great for struggling learners." - Mani This spelling method is best for 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th grade, but with mom's help it can be used for children as young as five years old. the activity book can be used for Dyslexic children and children who are hyper-active, have ADHD or Autism. Struggling learners thrive with this method! There are 180 activity pages so that you can use one page per day during the school year. The method used is a unique approach for teaching visual thinkers who are artistic and intelligent, but may not be doing well with phonics and memorization. It has been said that if children can no learn the way we teach, we must teach the way they learn. That is why this book is so different from other spelling books! This book uses very creative ways of teaching children how to become naturally good spellers. Do not worry about correcting your child's work until they get to the part of the book where they are writing their own short stories. By reading their short stories you can identify all the words that the child has trouble spelling. You can teach them those words by having them write each one down seven times in different colors. Do not make any marks or corrections on the child's book, this is his or her spelling journal, and should not be damaged by grades, or marks. Celebrate everything your child shows you in this journal, and remember learning to spell is like learning to talk. Your child will have some very "cute" ways of spelling in the beginning, and all you have to do is play the COLOR GAME with those words, once the child finishes this journal. As the child works through the journal they may start by spelling some things very "creatively" don't worry! When you read their stories at the end of the book you will see that many spelling problems have "self corrected" because of all the spelling games and activities in this book. Spelling can be fun! The Color Game: There is no need to give a child random spelling lists. Just find out what words the child misspells and have them write their word 7 times on the Fun Page. Use a different color each time.

Learning to spell has never been this fun before! Here are some images of the inside...

My girls love their new Spelling! The coloring pages and no test approach where you learn the words correctly, in context, is wonderful. This book was a bit young for my 11 year, bit still had enough words she needed to review, and she is loving it

Recently purchased this book to help make writing a little more fun for my reluctant 7 yr old boy. He enjoys the art work and the different options of what to right (ie. Looking around the house for 3 letter words, making your own calender, using words to describe a picture.) Even my 5 yr old is wanting to do the writing work pages!

My 6-year-old LOVES to memorize the poems and learn the spelling words in this book. It is also helping her learn how to read better since the spelling words kind of become sight words for her. ALL of the funschooling spelling journals are good but the ones that are poem based are our favorites.

My 9 year old daughter who typically hates spelling and struggles greatly with it will willingly do this book daily! Thanks for taking us from tears to smiles in regards to writing and smiling. Looking forward to trying other books in your series!

My children love this book! They are creating their own list of words and creating stories from pictures! It is a wonderful book and really adds "Fun" to our homeschooling !

I bought this book for my five year old who is doing kindergarten at home. We love the silly stories. We read them together and he colors in the words. He especially likes the creative writing and fill in comic section.
