Alison Booth is Associate Professor of English at the University of Virginia. Her research interests focus on Victorian literature and feminist theory and criticism, and her teaching at Virginia has ranged from "The Nineteenth-Century British novel" to "Utopias and Science Fiction." She is the author of Greatness Engendered: George Eliot and Virginia Woolf and editor of Famous Last Words: Changes in Gender and Narrative Closure. Kelly J. Mays has taught writing and literature courses for 25 years at Stanford University (where she earned her Ph.D.), in the Harvard Expository Writing Program, at New Mexico State University, and (since 2001) at the University of Nevada Las Vegas, where she is now an Associate Professor of English. A British literature specialist whose work has appeared in Victorian Studies, Victorian Poetry, Critical Inquiry, and other major scholarly journals, she is currently at work on a book exploring when and why nineteenth-century Britons began to label their age, their literature, and even themselves "Victorian."

Norton always makes great anthologies.

Ok text

Great purchase! I will be using to order more of my daughter's college text books. It arrived quickly which was exactly what we needed and the item was in great shape, we saved a lot of money ordering this way and I would recommend it to any college student and/or parent when order college text books. 3 more years of college for her and will be the way we go for books for sure.

Was required text for my literature class, has tons of pieces professor had interesting taste could have been much better class considering pieces present in text. FAT book 1000+ pages very delicate pages (thin) think phonebook or bible at times opaque.

We are using this text in my Introduction to Literature class. Initially I did not like some of the stories we read from it, but I am learning to appreciate them by heeding the instruction contained in this book.

I had to get this for school, but was in good condition and helped me even though I barely used it

I am satisfied with excellent price and the condition.
